

Small Goods Product List

for the Food Service Industry

There is always something new to look out for in this busy sector of the market, with both large and boutique producers bringing new or improved products to the market. So to ensure our clients are given plenty of choice we not only source smallgoods from export-registered manufacturers but also from small-scale producers who specialise in one product, like prosciutto, salami, bresaola or pancetta.

Many of these boutique manufacturers operate from the old-world traditions that began generations ago from skilled craftsman handing down their distinctive manufacturing processes and recipes. Haverick Meats has ensured to capture this old-world expertise and provide a large selection of smallgoods products to complement any of our fresh meats. We ensure to advise when selected smallgoods products are in-stock and when others become seasonally available, vastly improving the opportunity to enjoy a unique desired product and delight the palates of the most discriminating culinary experts.

With each product, we have hunted out only the very best-in-class suppliers who make smallgoods products to our exacting specifications, giving each it's own unique character and flavour. Our clients can be assured that our attention to detail means that the products we supply, all meet stringent processing and foodsafety standards, providing unsurpassed quality and remarkable consistency as a result of generation-tested artisan methods.
